winemaker's story We pick this Clarksburg Pinot Noir early and specifically for our Rosé program. Direct to press and fermented low and slow – sometimes taking a full month to coax out every bit of flavor. The patience pays off in a wine that's equal parts beautiful in color and delicious. The vibrant pink is a bit of a tease – this is a dry, light-bodied rosé with bright acidity and fresh fruit, not the sweet sipper the color might suggest. Made for the kind of afternoon that stretches into evening.

pairings Sip with fresh seafood or tangy ceviche, crisp salads, soft cheeses, and the general feeling that everything is going to be fine. Also: anything on the brunch menu.
